Don't Crowd.

- Don't crowd; this world is broad enough
- For you as well as me; The doors of art are open wide-
- The realm of thought is free; of all carth's places you are right
- To choose the best you can ;
- Provided you do not try To crowd some other man-
- What matter though you scarce can count. Your piles of golden ore,
- While he can hardly strive to keep
- Gaunt famine from the door. Of willing hands and honest heart Alone should man be proud;
- Then give him all the room he needs, And never try to crowd.
- Don't crowd, proud Miss; your dainty silk Will glisten none the less
- Because it comes in contact with A beggar's tattered dress ;
- This lovely world was never made For you and I alone;
- A pauper has a right to tread The pathway to a throne.
- Don't crowd the good from out your heart By fostering all that's bad;
- But give to every virtue room-The best that may be had;
- Be each day's record such a one, That you may well be proud;
- Give each his right, give each his room, And never try to crowd.

The art of painting on marble, which, if ever known, has been lost for centuries, has at length, after years of experiment, been brought to a high degree of perfection by a New York artist. In lliancy of color his specimens are equal to oil painting, while the pigments when once fixed, are ermanent, and cannot be injured by the action of the atmosphere, water or acids.

Lord Shaftesbury believes that the next census will show a population in London of nearly 4,000,000, a serious proportion of whom are, he states, in a state of social and moral degradation so great that, unless something is done to imrove them, the British Constitution will not be worth a quarter of a century's purchase.

ARMS.-It is said that Germany contracted for all the large quantities of arms for sale in Europe to keep them out of the bands of France, and that the French there can only pick up such small lots as the Prussians left, or wait until more are manufactured. France offers to take any quantity of American rifles, landed in any of her ports, and pay for them the sum of fifty dollars each. Some Yankee skipper will be induced to try his luck at DEEP SEA LIVE AND TAXATION .- Says Mr. Lowe, in a recent speech on the Budget, in the English Parliament. " I will state what I believe to be the true principle of taxation, and will illustrie it by what is in Dr. Carpenter's recent voyage in the Aretic Ocean. He states that they found the frailest and smallest animals living and flourishing at the bottom of the sea under a pressure of three tons to the square inch. How did they contrive to live? Because the pressure was equalized. And that is the whole secret of taxa-

The newspapers are making much ado over the fact, if such it be, that Beecher has abolished hell. In a late sermon before the Plymouth Church congregation, he denied the existence of such a place, and asserted that no reasoning or sensible man could believe in such a place. He said that he " honored men for disbelieving such a monstrous doctrine. Vindictive justice cannot be defended in the Court of Love. God is a loving father, not a cruel tyrant, and sensible people can take no other view." What is this world coming to that the preachers preach thus? Is the world going forward or backward? What

A SOLDIER'S VALUATION OF HIS EXPERIENCE.-Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin, in a recent speech at Milwaukee, said: "I was standing by one of our Wisconsin regiments, when, being mustered out, it finally broke ranks in the streets of Milwaukee. I shall never forget a brief conversation I heard between a citizen and one of the soldiers who had just stepped out of the ranks. After the ordinary salutations, 'Well,' said the citizen, 'well, John, you must have seen a good many tough sights.' 'Yes,' said John, 'I would not sell what I have seen for a bundred thousand dollars, and I would not see it again for a hundred millions."

How history repeats itself, even in minute matters. When in old Napoleon's time, the Bourbons first returned to Paris, behold many magnificent carpets in the palaces embroidered with the armorial bees of the Bonapartes! These were carefully picked out and the filies substituted. Back came the Emperor of Elba to be, for 100 days, again Emperor of France. Out came the lilies and in went the bees once more. Waterloo followed, and the fat Bourbon mounted the old throne. Out came the bees, and in went the old lilies. And now we are told that the stone-masons are chipping out the great "N' which is often repeated in the carvings of the new opera house. Will there be room to substitate "R. F.," and if the initials are put there may we hope they will remain ?- N. Y. Tribune.

STORMS IN THE SUN.-Professor J. D. Steele says the result of observation now being taken shows that storms rage upon the sun with a violence of which we can form no conception. Hurricanes sweep over its surface with terrific violence. Vast cyclones wrap its fires into whirl-pools, at the bottom of which our earth could fie like a boulder in a volcano. Huge flames dart out to enormous distances, and fly over the sun with a speed greater than that of the earth itself through space. At one time a cone of fire shot out 80,000 miles, and then died away, all in ten minutes' time. There is nothing in these phenomeuon to alarm us. They have, in all probability, happened constantly for ages past. That we have now means of investigating their nature and measuring their height and velocity furnishes no water, although it is not from the vegetable kingdom that this acid is usually prepared.—

Constructively, too, prussic acid may be called a vegetable poison, seeing that it exists in bitter almonds and laurel
